Golf in Nature's Preserve

A top 100 golf course carved out of The Preserve's natural terrain.

For a century, the Monterey Peninsula has been one of the world's top vacation destinations. For golfers, the area's reputation for spectacular and challenging links has become legendary. Course names like Spyglass Hill, Pebble Beach and Cypress Point attract golfers worldwide like pilgrims to a holy land of emerald fairways and greens.

In this heritage of distinguished courses, The Preserve Golf Club has become one of the most sought-after private golf experiences in not just the Carmel area, but the world. Located just a few miles up Carmel Valley from Pebble Beach in the 20,000 acre private Santa Lucia Preserve, The Preserve course was carefully planned and crafted by top golf course architect Tom Fazio.

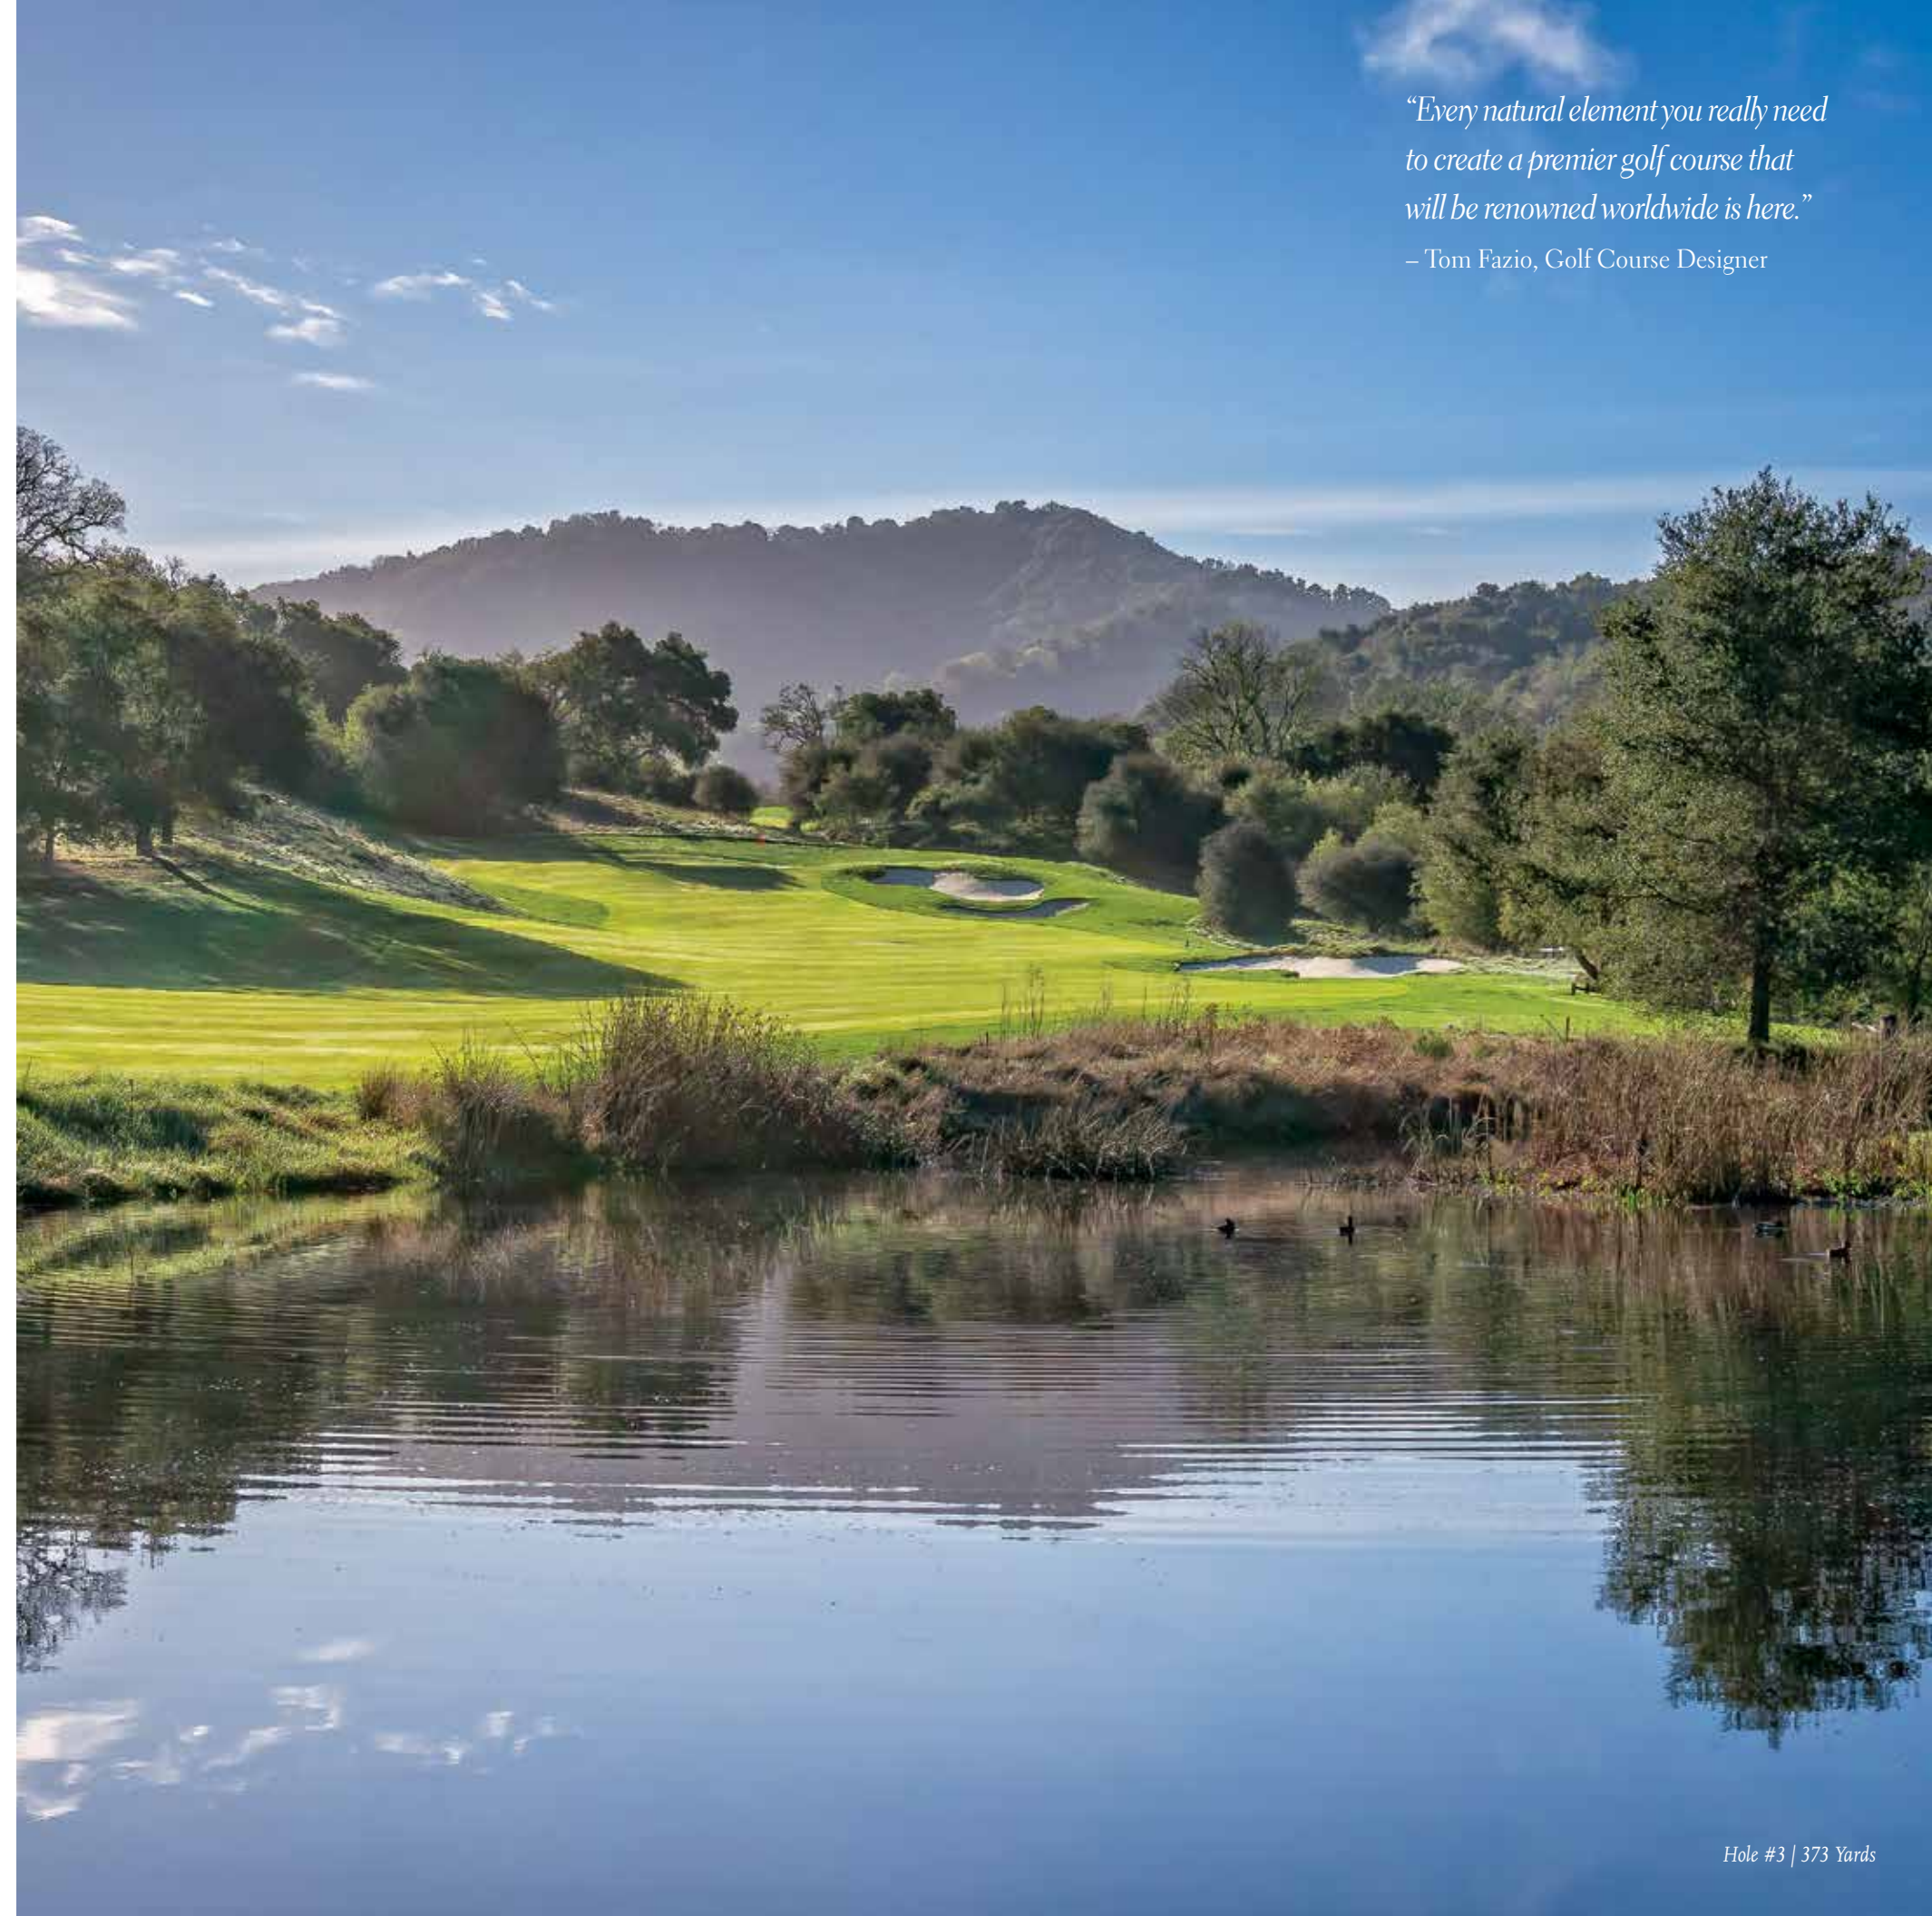

With the foothills of the Santa Lucia Mountains as backdrop, Fazio's design flows through the 365 acres of rolling grassy meadows so naturally as to make it appear that the oaks and hills sprang up around it. "My first impression was the 'wow' factor," said Fazio. "The property is almost mind-boggling. It's an amazing setting with those valleys and distances, plus the scale of the place. As a setting for a golf course, it's as good as it gets."

There are no artificially created dramatic or heroic holes, Fazio explained. Instead, the course is a straightforward eighteen, a steady crescendo of great golf, with one fine hole leading to the next. The drama is found in the setting, the beautiful blending of nature and golf course in a stunning natural landscape not found anywhere else in the country. "The view from the 1st tee is spectacular," Fazio said. "After that, there are no downs, just ups. I think when a golfer leaves the 18th green, he'll know he has played a memorable course, one with distinction."

"Every natural element you really need to create a premier golf course that will be renowned worldwide is here."
– Tom Fazio, Golf Course Designer

A Course to Match Each Player

An enjoyable and unforgettable golfing experience no matter your skill level.

Fazio meticulously planned each Preserve course hole to be distinctive as well as memorable for its own personality. The design consistently conforms to the natural rhythm and contour of the landscape, enhancing rather than detracting from it. From the 1st tee to the final hole, each member and guest will discover an enjoyable and unforgettable golfing experience, no matter what their skill level. “It’s as if you are going on a grand hike and happen to have a golf club in your hand,” said Fazio.

The Clubhouse

A dramatic setting that blends California ranch hospitality with the best traditions of golf.

The Preserve Clubhouse is nestled among stands of landmark oaks on a west-facing knoll. It overlooks the 1st tee, the 18th green and the surrounding hills, ridges and mountains. The design echoes California's Spanish-influenced architectural past, as if a series of historic structures built over time were linked together to form the present Clubhouse.

Gather with friends and family in the mixed grill for breakfast, lunch or afternoon hors d'oeuvres. Savor delicious ranch cuisine served with the same flair and attention to detail as found at the Hacienda. From each table, you'll enjoy a different view of the golf course and the changing colors of sunlight across The Preserve's striking landscape.

The Clubhouse provides beautifully and equally appointed men's and women's locker rooms and lounges. After a round of golf, store your gear in your locker and relax with a steam bath, shower and massage. Then, join your friends in the lounge overlooking the 18th hole, where the friendly staff serves you your favorite beverage or dish from the kitchen.

The Clubhouse is a natural gathering place for The Preserve's golf community. It's the place to begin and end an unforgettable golfing experience. As a member, it is your place. Welcome and enjoy.

Membership

The legacy and traditions of The Preserve Golf Club will be carefully built one member and one memory at a time.

A course as memorable as The Preserve can certainly be enjoyed in a single round, but the true measure of the experience will only be gained in time, as a player learns the course under changing conditions, round after round. To ensure that members have this opportunity to draw continued inspiration from and deepen their relationship with the course, the Club is limited to 300 equity memberships.

The Preserve Golf Club staffs a talented team of golf professionals who serve and support our member players. They provide attentive and personal service to every member and guest. From offering advice on enhancing a player's swing to tips on the approach of a particular green, you will find the staff knowledgeable and accessible to serve your needs.

This historic bell, once used to summon firefighters on the ranch, now serves as the clarion for players making a hole-in-one at The Preserve.

Fallen redwood trees have been reclaimed to create a distinctive start for every member's first round.
